

Anat Mahrer
VP, Human Resources

TOMS

Anat.Mahrer@toms.com

Anat is currently the Vice President of Human Resources for TOMS LLC with responsibility for managing all generalist support for global functions and the Americas Region, Organizational Development and Learning & Development.

Anat joins TOMS LLC from DIRECTV, where she most recently held the role of Director of Human Resources for DIRECTV with responsibility for managing HR generalist support for Revenue and Marketing, Digital Entertainment Product Group, Content and Programming, Legal and Government Affairs.

Prior to DIRECTV, Anat was with NBCUniversal, where she held various HR leadership roles including supporting the West Coast Finance and Legal functions, the Technical Operations department, Sports and Olympics, KNBC and where she participated in General Electric's HR Leadership Program. Anat previously held various human resources positions with Avon Products, Inc. and 20th Century Fox.

Anat holds a Masters of Arts in Organizational Social Psychology from Columbia University in New York and a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration with concentrations in Finance and Organizational Development from University of Washington in Seattle. Anat lives in Brentwood, California and enjoys traveling, cycling and spending time with friends and family.