

Angela Saverice-Rohan, Esq.
Managing Director, National
Cybersecurity & Privacy Practice,
PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP

Angela Saverice-Rohan is the former General Counsel and Chief Privacy Officer of Spokeo. She now serves as a Managing Director of PwC's Data Protection and Privacy practice in Los Angeles. With 19 years of professional experience in the regulated industries of financial services and healthcare, as well as in the unregulated world of Big Data, Angela provides a unique perspective on privacy and its relationship to increasing shareholder value, obtaining new customers and brand enhancement.

As an attorney, she has advised the C suite of Fortune 50 companies on privacy compliance, privacy considerations related to product development, vendor risk management, marketing, and international sales. Angela has managed major data breach incidents, as well as the response to a senate investigation of the data broker industry and FTC consent decree compliance. She resides with her family in Pasadena.