

Dan Goldenberg

Executive Director and Vice President
Call of Duty Endowment and
Activision Blizzard

Dan Goldenberg, who currently serves as a captain in the Navy Reserve, has served 24 years of active and reserve military service and more than a decade of business experience. Previously serving as Sr. Vice President of Growth Partnership Services at Frost & Sullivan, a global research and management consulting firm, and prior to that as a senior director and practice manager at CEB, he is currently the Executive Director for Call of Duty Endowment, a nonprofit corporation that identifies and funds the most efficient and effective organizations that get unemployed veterans back to work. Highlights of his military service include tours as a commanding officer, carrier-based naval flight officer, and special assistant to the Secretary of the Navy.

Goldenberg is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Harvard Business School and the Air Command and Staff College. His strong personal connection to veterans and understanding first-hand the impact they can have in the civilian workforce drives the Endowment's efforts to place veterans into high quality jobs.
